ABOUT ME

My career started in 2007 by launching a personal blog site. Until 2014, I worked freelance as a Web and Graphic Designer. By continuously improving myself with training, I founded RiHEM NET. Since 2019, I have been officially providing customized consultancy services in Digital Media and Marketing for various companies. I still strive to improve myself with a beginner's enthusiasm, being open and receptive to new ideas and perspectives.

In my 17-year career journey, aside from managing my own business, I have worked full-time at agencies, government institutions, and software firms, gaining experience in areas such as Project Management, Analysis and Testing, Software Development, UI Development, Digital Marketing, SEO, Web Design, Corporate Identity, Branding, E-commerce, Artificial Intelligence, and Team Management.

If you need someone passionate, skilled, and competent in software, design, and anything digital, feel free to contact me.

"A person's true value is shown through their work, not their words."
